

2010 ASC Board Elections - Electronics

Akira Fujimaki

- Affiliation Nagoya University
- Position Professor, Department of Quantum Engineering
- Previous Positions Stayed at UC Berkley as a visiting scientist in 1987 before employed at Nagoya University for entire professor career.
- Education Tohoku University (Dr. of Eng. in 1987)
- Research Interests/
Areas of Expertise: Superconductivity, superconducting electronics (analog, digital, and mixed signal), superconductive thin films, devices, and circuits (LTS, MTS, and HTS), system applications for detectors, communications, and qubits.
- Approximate Number of Years in Applied Superconductivity: 28 years
- Membership in Professional Societies Japan Society of Applied Physics (JSAP); Chairperson ('07-'09) of Superconductivity Division of JSPS, The Institute of Electronics, Information, and Communication Engineers (IEICE); Chairperson ('09-'11) of Superconductive Electronics Division of IEICE.
- Awards Superconductivity Science and Technology Awards of the Society of Non-Traditional Technology in 2004.
- Previous ASC Service Asia-Program Chair (Electronics) of ASC2004; Program committee member of ASC2002, 2006, 2008, 2010.
- Service to Related Conferences Program Chair of ISEC'09, International advisory committee member of ISEC2001, 2003, 2005, 2007.